Rant about Freedom

LOGUN Council member for Central England
ooc: Played by John Taylor

Hey, was I somehow misinformed by my sire or something? Or maybe I'm actually a member of The New Clan Ventrue, and not the fighters for freedom called the Brujah! Well here's my beliefs, and those that I was told was Clan wide.

The Brujah fight for one thing above all other ideals, FREEDOM. We as a Clan have fought Slavery since the idea was first thought of. We've got into some major crud fighting the other Clans over the centuries, in fact only the Gangrel within the Camarilla have the same views really, but that's a different matter. In America the action got really heated, with the Tzimisce and Ventrue in particular during the Revolution and the Civil War.

That is how we feel about enslaving Kine. However the sickest, vilest, most pure evil thing one Kindred can do to another is to create a Blood Bond without mutual consent. Blood Bonds are the ultimate collar, unless you've Tremere 'friends' or your stupid enough to trust the Sabbat, then you're in deep crud, cos it's virtually impossible to snap the bloody things by pure effort of will, if not sheer impossible! If you even suspect that a Brother or Sister has a Bond not of her own choosing, then contact a Council Member and we'll investigate the matter, and then we'll deal with the situation.

All this considered, WHAT THE FUCK ARE BRUJAH DOING BONDING KINDRED! I realise that sometimes the only option open to us is a short term collar, but on more than one occasion I've come across Brujah that are considering, or already do, holding leashes on Kindred!

ARE WE THE NEW TREMERE? Is this Clan returning to the day's of Elders holding the leashes on Kindred Dog-Soldiers? Utterly trustworthy troops who you can treat like crud and still have them die for you? Have we in truth become the Honourless, Hypocritical Puppets as the Pariah Top claimed we are? I SAY NO!

Here's the deal as I see it, and the views I'll be upholding. Any Brujah who calls for aid had better not be Slavemaster Wannabe's. Cos otherwise unless they are willing to snap all collars, and vow never to hold any others, then they are going to go through a hell of a lot of testing to prove that they are Brujah, and that's Before any decision is made about aiding you! Don't get me wrong, ghouls are a necessary evil, I have a couple myself. But that don't give you the right to treat them like utter crud mind. But Blood Bonding another Kindred to you is something COMPLETELY different.

I won't except it from other Clan's so I sure as hell won't except it from my own! And people, if you're from the Central Regions & you don't like it, then you know what you can do. And if you get the majority vote, then you can choose some other poor fool to try and aid you as your Council Member. And if you're not from the Central Regions, then to quote from the WWF; 'IT DOESN'T MATTER!'

'The Knucker' a while before he became Primogen for Stafford.

ABOLISH ID CARDS NOW!!! Who needs id cards?! Who has allowed the System to impose this Fascist crap on us? Who sleeps while The Man takes our freedom away? I say to you it is time to wake up! What right do the pigs have to stop a man in the street just because he's outside after dark and demand that he proves who he is by giving them a piece of plastic? A piece of plastic that might contain all places you've ever been, all the people you've ever met, all the library books you've ever taken out... all readable by the same machines that check how much money you've got stashed in that High Street Bank when you try and buy fuel for your car, or food for your kids.

The next time a pig asks you who you are, give him a brick in the face! Ask him how it feels to have his freedom taken away when you break his legs and take his cop-car. If you don't know how to use your fists and feet then use your brains, pretend to go along with what the pig tells you then stab him in the back as he returns to his vehicle! Learn the ways of warfare! You are already at war whether you realise it or not! The Man is waging war on all of us, attempting to take away our rights and our freedoms a little at a time, all the while arming his private army: can anyone remember when Britain's police force didn't bear arms and anyone had a chance of doing them over in a fair fight? Now the bastards have automatic weaponry, and its not safe to walk the streets at night BECAUSE of the bastard pigs. The Man wants it this way, he wants you to be afraid because then he can lay that fear at the feet of his enemies and blame them for your weakness while he continues to tool up his army and to bleed you dry... Rise up and show the Man that you are strong too! That you will not accept the Rules that he is imposing on you. that you are free and that you will take any measures to remain free. Just because you live in a small town doesn't mean you don't matter – don't let the Man tell you you're not important just because you don't live in a big house or drive a big car. Look to the example set by your brothers across the world, in protests at the rape of Gaia by the capitalist blood-suckers. RISE UP!!!

All over the world brave revolutionary brothers and sisters took up arms against the Man to demonstrate against the world wide abuse of the poor by capitalist corporations... from London to Seattle ordinary people ran riot through the streets - through THEIR streets - to show the Man that they couldn't be intimidated into silence. Even though the uniformed thugs drawing their blood-money wages from the Man opened fire on innocent protesters with LIVE AMMO the courageous souls would not surrender, and in the end were victorious before the Whole Worlds media! Despite having only improvised weaponry they fought with ferocity and valour against the professional armed forces arrayed against them, and millions of television sets across the globe bore witness to their noble deeds and heroic sacrifices.

REMEMBER THEM, AND FIGHT ON IN THEIR NAME!!
SEATTLE SLAUGHTER Not forgotten.

Take Albion Back from the Fascist Pig Scum!!! You are already at war whether you realise it or not! The Man is taking away your rights and you freedoms!

Warlord Greeting

Some words from our newly appointed Clan Warlord :
Greetings fellow members of Clan Brujah. Anarchs Camarilla and Oathsworn. I have the opportunity to serve the Clan in the position of Warlord. As I stated in my request for support in acquiring this position I am VERY keen on winning and will do everything to ensure that the Clan is treated with respect by all. In this 21st Century we face many threats from within and without, whilst it is in our nature to fight and bicker internally we must present a united front against anti-Brujah aggressors from outside the Clan. I am a servant of the council, use me as you will.

In Brief : ukBrujah organisation

In Brief : Each domain has a primogen, these primogen represent their clanmates to the court and also the regional councillor, each regional councillor represents their region nationally to the rest of the council and the Clan head represents the Clan to the rest of the camarilla.

Wanted : ukBrujah web people / team

We really need people who are willing to commit to helping out with the ukBrujah website. People willing to gather news are the main thing we need, but in addition to that we really need someone who knows how to get forms working (on geocities). I'm just an arty type, don't know the technical side really ...

If you're interested, have steady email access and think you can spare the time ... drop me a line and let me know. Cheers.

The ukBrujah website

Keep checking it out every now and then for updated content, or contact us to add your own material. We are aiming to catalogue a whole lot of material on there, from stories, news, contacts, downloads, to other brujah websites...

If you know of any other good Brujah related sites or resources just drop me a line. We'd appreciate any feedback or comments you have on the ukBrujah online material too.

usBrujah Webstuff

There is a Cam website for Brujah with all sorts of stuff worth checking out. The site can be found at :

<http://busdiv.htc.edu/cam/brujah>

Things you can find there :

- A database entry form. One of the projects the SA and staff are working on is a Brujah character database. Putting your character in the database grants you access to the IC side of the site, and is one step toward connecting your character to the global chronicle. Being in the database also allows you to join the brujah mailing list at your convenience.
- A sire search form. Attempt to find your character a sire, and potentially a full lineage.
- Information. Temporary lore, details on the gauntlet and other Brujah traditions, as well as a large timeline of the Brujah's involvement in history.

Basically, the above website is a way for the SA to convey information to players and storytellers. So what's an SA? Another one of those deviant american things? An SA (Specialty Advisor) is assigned to a particular aspect of the chronicle (such as a clan, or a tribe), and works to provide sanctioned material for that aspect. They create plotlines that are then executed by the ST office. They create background material, compile background material submitted by players, and generally flesh out the specialty for which they are responsible.

Shit often happens...

Letter of Introduction Councillor for Northern England

My greetings to all of you. My name is Robert Chambers. I make my home in the domain of Sheffield, where I speak on behalf of the other Brujah that live there. I have recently been asked to serve the clan as northern councillor. I have accepted, and will serve the clan in this way until such time that the North dictates otherwise.

As I am aware that I have met painfully few of the Northern Brujah, I think it is wise for me to write a few words about myself, what I see my role as being, and how I think that we can advance the clan's aims in the North (and indeed perhaps the country in general). I am first and foremost a warrior. I have fought on the field of open battle, both as a follower and as a leader of men. I have defended castles in sieges and lead pursuits upon the routing enemy. I have stood at the side of Princes and Kings and championed their causes, offered them counsel and dined at their tables. Over the many years I came to realise that triumph is obtained by using all of the available avenues of attack open to the army. This means that we use the intelligence of the scouts, the speed of the cavalry, the wily tongue of the diplomat. It has long been my belief that should I have to risk any on the field of battle, then perhaps I have failed to break the resolve of the enemy at parley.

But how does this talk of a bygone age help the clan now? I believe that we can achieve anything if we utilise all of the weapons available to us. I think we are all (myself included) guilty of sometimes losing sight of this. I believe that the councillors especially should not lose sight of this. We serve by bringing to council those events that affect the clan in the regions we represent. At council we then need to look at all the weapons we have available before offering help, counsel and if called for, action to those affected places. As a clan we need to realise that all of the weapons we have are equally effective in any given situation. Whilst all of us would consider direct action a valid weapon; we must also realise that spoken words, money, prestaton, strategy, planning and intelligence are weapons equally as valid. As councillor to the north I have a number of goals. The most important of these is to make sure that none of our people die. We must work together on this, bidding our time on the actions of advancement that we take. You may seize a throne today, but to be ousted and killed tomorrow due to a lack of vision only weakens the clan. Rather you wait until tomorrow, and then reign on the day after. Those that have killed our people and now hide behind titles, armies and the favour of this day should realise that the day does not last forever.

In closing I say that when you fight, fight with honour, courage and heart. Stand up for what you believe and defend it with passion, giving no quarter to those that would destroy it. Choose your cause wisely, and be aware of the machinations of others. If you can turn the weapon of your enemy against him, then he fights on two fronts.

I thank you for reading my words. I look forward to meeting those of the clan that I have not yet, both in the North and the other lands.

Barbs of the Thistle

It is a time of mixed emotions for the Brujah in Scotland. With the return of Vladimir Magistrov to the fold has brought joy to the hearts of the clan. Many expected him to pause not, and to make a sweeping political move, and he did. He has now stepped into the fold as warlord for the Brujah.

Edinburgh, a Ventrue domain for so long, now belongs to one of the clan. Prince Alicia stepped into the fold, stabilising the domain in the face of increased malkavian madness. With Vladimir as her main advisor she soon stared down the Pax Bregantine (spelling) who wished her domain subsumed.

However, on a sadder note, Dominic, councillor for Scotland, is dead. Executed by the Late Prince of Dundee for a breach of the Second Tradition. Dominic was discovered firebombing the haven of the Seneschal of the domain, in an Anarch based attack. Dominic shall be remembered for his stabilising influence over Scotland in the wake of the turmoil that struck last year, he will be sadly missed.

In Brief : The Domains of Scotland

Nairn : A relatively new domain, the Brujah presence there is unknown at the moment.

Forfar : An anarch domain, and the residence of Dominic Stuart, councillor for Scotland until his recent untimely demise.

Dundee : The oldest of the Scottish domains, home to Fred Murray, a scholar; Darrien Lambert the Keeper of Elysium and Nate the Primogen.

Jimmy Mortimer ex-council member for Scotland used to reside here but his whereabouts are currently unknown.

Fife : Current Prince of Fife is Alexander Beckett, a Ventrue. Fife has a number of Brujah, none of whom have position in the court as far as I'm aware.

The Duchy of Kirkcaldy is controlled by a Brujah, Carlos. There are rumours of a declaration of Praxis there.

Glasgow : Prince Heather Powell, a Toreador has Praxis there and Tsunari of Clan Brujah is the Sheriff.

Edinburgh : Prince Alicia of Clan Brujah still has Praxis, Lex of Clan Brujah is the Sheriff and Vladimir Magistrov Clan Warlord is the Primogen.
